

I am concerned already about the control that corporate interests have in the broadcasting of the news. Any legislation that would give a particular corporation more control over the information that the general public receives via television, radio, newspapers and magazines would be detrimental to our national interest. As a result, I oppose this legislation which would raise the limit on the number of stations that one corporation could own.